Sessions types:
sessions can be attributed a “type” : defined by a

- label

- description

the type is shown on the session short view (list view and calendar view) as a color sticker, and on the session detailed view as a label Shown also on the preset button
Clicking on this label displays the type description in a bottom dialog Users can attribute a type to any session (in the “start session” dialog)
We will need a screen to admin sessions types, accessible from “Settings” we will need a shortcut to the “admin sessions types” screen from the “attribute a type to a session” one
We will need to add a filter for session type to the list view filters
See how to integrate this feature to graphs view
